MANY INNOVATIONS MARK NEW GRAND TRUNK TRAINS

Train Agent Will Look After Tickets—Library for Use of Passengers

EDMONTON EXPRESS NO. 1

Two Thousand People Greet Arrival of Train Last Night that Marks New Era in City's Life

If the G. T. P. were longer in starting its regular service to Winnipeg than was altogether to the liking of the pople of Edmonton, it has more than made up for that delay by the accommodation which it has now afforded those travelling between the Alberta and Manitoba capitals. The initial trips of the trains going both ways were an occasion of much rejoicing all along the line, and the traffic both through and local was such as to fully warrant the company's action in launching out.

Mr. A. E. Duff, assistant general passenger agent, accompanied the train east yesterday morning and on the first trip of the Edmonton express (as the train westbound has been designated) were Mr. C. W. Johnson, chief clerk of the passenger department and Supt. Ross of the Canadian Express Co.

Officials argue that if the service has been delayed it is in reality a good thing, both for the company and for the public.

The road bed is now in perfect shape and the first trains travelled as smoothly as if they were passing over the oldest road in the continent. Of the accommodation which G. T. P. patrons have in this respect, too much cannot be said. The coaches are strongly and handsomely built. The cafe parlor cars are a feature worthy of particular notice. The chair compartment is luxuriously fitted out, and for those travelling short distances, will be a great boon. The cafe service is in excellent hands, and it is such as to satisfy the most exacting.

An innovation in Canadian railroading is the presence of a ticket agent on board who looks after the collecting of all tickets and money, and leaves the conductor free to direct the running of the train. The company is likely to benefit very largely by this division of duties, as quite often the conductor's work of taking tickets is so frequently interrupted by his jumping off at different stations that many passengers are allowed to beat their way. At the same time this lessening of the conductor's duties enables him to look after his other duties much more satisfactorily than he otherwise would.

A library service is also something provided by the G. T. P. which is out of the way. Those travelling in the parlor cars are at liberty to choose from a liberal assortment of books for reading in the course of their journey.

A Fast Schedule

A fast schedule has been prepared. It is planned to reach Winnipeg from Edmonton in thirty hours and with close connections made for the east, Toronto can be reached in a trifle over three days, and Chicago in two and a half. What is more, everything has been arranged so that except on altogether unforseen circumstances, the trains will keep absolutely to their schedule. Going both ways they reached their destinations right on the dot.

Country Prosperous

Along the line the country and the towns and vilages bear every evidence of prosperity, and the latter have obtained very considerable growth already, and with the improved means of communication now open to them, will undoubtedly undergo great expansion. The fields of grain and the sleek cattle that one sees from the car windows indicate a sucessful season for those who have undertaken the all important work of developing the land. But there is lots of room for more of them, and the railroad officials are looking forward to a very active immigration, in two or three years, into the country along their line. All G. T. P officials are now busy answering inquiries.

Local Reception

Long before the scheduled time last evening the C. N. R. depot was crowded with spectators gathered to witness the arrival of the first through express from the east over the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Promptly at 8.15 p.m. the new vestibule train Edmonton Express No. 1 glided into the station where the strains of martial music came faintly through the cheering of the fifteen hundred spectators.

As the train stopped the crowds of spectators thronged to the doors eager to be allowed inside and inspect for themselves the latest production of the railway coach builders' art. With difficulty the travellers disembarked from the train and the eager spectators crowded in at one end and walking through, poured out at the other.

Amongst the arrivals was Mayor Lee who had gone down earlier in the day to Toweld with ex-Supt Taylor of the street railway. After a short while the mayor climbed to the roof of the Windsor Hotel bus, accompanied by President McGeorge of the board of trade and said a few words to the assembled crowd.

The Mayor's Speech

"This is one of the red letter days in Edmonton's history," he said, "that we are all gathered to greet the arrival of the first through passenger express over the G.T.P. I am glad that so many have testified as to their interest in this event and in the life of the city, by their presence.

"I think we are all delighted with the excellence of the service and we ought to give three hearty cheers for the Grand Trunk.

And led by Mayor Lee, and Mr McGeorge, the crowd gave the cheers and a "Tiger" for the G. T. P.

The band then struck up a lively march, and as the people seemed disinclined to disperse they played several more selections before forming into marching order and moving off towards Jasper avenue, and the crowd, as s usual with a crowd, followed the band

LEGAL STEPS TO OUST BURNS CO

City Solicitor Will Make Report Telling How to Move the Slaughter House

City Solicitor Bown will make report to the city commissioner their meeting tomorow afternoon the matter of the Burn's slaughter house. When asked what the nature of his report would be Mr. Bown merely stated that every legal step would be taken to oust the company from their present location.

TORONTO DOCTORS MAY EXCEED SPEED LIMIT—NOT SO HERE

A Capital reporter this morning asked Chief of Police Lancey if physicians were permitted to exceed speed ordinance while on professional duty. The chief answered decidedly in the negative.

"Why is that," asked the reporter, "even if it is a question of life and death either way," replied the chief, "if a physician is speeding at a high rate in answer to a call, he is liable to kill someone on the way."

Chief Lancey said that while in Montreal he was in company with a prominent surgeon who declared the automobile ambulances were a nuisance. They are continually getting into trouble.

"Anyway," said the chief in conclusion, "if it was proved that a doctor was exceeding the speed limit in such a case he would probably be released on suspended sentence.

Toronto, July 5.—As a result of Dr. W. A. Young's letter to Mayor Geary the doctors of Toronto will be treated by the police in the matte rof autos. The chief will of the proposed complaint laid against a doctor was that doctors, exceeding the speed limit on their way to visits in a serious condition, would be brought into Police Court and fined for violating the bylaw. Such a case happened yesterday afternoon.

The police commissioners recognized the necessity of giving doctors driving motors on urgent cases some exemption from the rigors of the bylaw, but they were confronted by the fear that such liberty might be turned into license. The doctors' sons, for example, might, under cover of the exemption granted their fathers' numbers, violate the bylaw.

No change has been made in the law, but a working basis has been arrived at. If a doctor, going to visit a patient who is seriously ill, exceeds the speed limit on an unfrequented street, the police will probably fail to take his number.

But it is recognized that it would be poor economy to allow a doctor to injure, and perhaps kill, two or three people in order to save the life of one whose recovery is doubtful in any case. Therefore, on crowded streets, doctors will have to observe the bylaw the same as other people.

If a doctor takes advantage of the commissioners' leniency by violating the bylaw when he is not visiting patients dangerously ill, or by allowing his automobile to be driven at excessive speed by other members of his family, the unwritten license tacitly granted him will be withdrawn, and the penalty meted out will be probably more severe than it is at present.

ALLIS-CHALMERS MAN TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Will Then Hold Conference With Commissioner Bouillon Re Filtration Plant

Commissioner Bouillon expects the representative of the Allis-Chalmers Company, who is coming to the city from Milwaukee, to confer with the civic authorities in the matter of the gas producing plant to arrive towards the end of the week. He received word that the company's envoy had left for Edmonton last week.

CLAREMONT HAD $5,000 BLAZE

Fire Breaks Out in Livery Barn and Spreads to Surrounding Buildings

FOUR HORSES LOST

Drunken Man Smoking in Barn Was Cause of Fire—Only Absence of Wind Saved Town

Clarkson, Alta., July 5. — Fire broke out last night in F. E. Gibson's livery barn and did twenty thousand dollars damage At that saved the town was the absence of wind. The fire had only smouldered in the hay a considerable time before being noticed the flames shot through the roof the alarm sounded. There were forty tons of hay in the barn which through on fourteen horses and the slightest effort could be made to save them.

Sohy's big department store was saved by a slight breeze blowing in opposite way.

The Buildings Destroyed

The buildings destroyed were: Livery barn and dwelling owned by J. Bailey, of Granum, value $3,500; contents owned by F. E. Gibson, $2,000; Priest's wood-working shop, $1,000; Booth's blacksmith shop, $2,000; Geroux's liquor store and a laundry slightly damaged.

Several outbuildings were destroyed probably half the loss being covered by insurance.

The origin of the fire was probably taken men smoking in the barn. Two or three citizens were overcome by suffocation and Harry Corbett, of the Queen's Hotel was injured by a falling ladder.

All previous records for the street railway department have been beaten by the month which closed on June 30th, when 311,307 passengers made use of the cars, and the total receipts were $13,500.

U.S. WARSHIPS HAVE RIGHTS

May Patrol Newfoundland Waters and Land Troops There

TO PROTECT FISHERMEN

Hague Tribunal Apparently Will Give the U. S. These Rights on British Territory

London, July 5.—A Hague dispatch in referring to former Senator Turner's speech before the Fisheries Tribunal, says the results of the United States contention will apparently be that the United States will be entitled to send its warships into New Foundland waters and soldiers on New Foundland shores to protect and control the inhabitants when exercising the liberties granted them of fishing in New Foundland waters and when drying and curing fish on the New Foundland shores.

Numerous questions have been put to the senator by members of the tribunal during the course of his arguments and the senator on several occasions at a later stage read the tribunal written answers.

WISE TO RESTRICT THE IMMIGRATION

F. W. Freir, British Journalist, Approves of Canada's Immigration Regulations

HAVE MORE EXCURSIONS

So As to Encourage Immigrants to Go Back to England for Short Trips—Would Advertise Country

Mr. F. W. Freir, managing editor of the "Colonizer," accompanied by Mrs. Freir, arrived in Edmonton last evening on the first through Grand Trunk Pacific train from Winnipeg. Mr. Freir is an annual visitor to this country, having toured Canada every year since 1895. "The Colonizer," Mr. Freir's paper, is one of the leading colonization journals in the world and circulates largely throughout the British Empire. It has been a potent influence in the directing of immigration to Canada, it being estimated that it is responsible for an influx of 2000 people to Canada yearly. With Mr. Freir this year was a party of fourteen British capitalists who are looking over the country with a view of investing.

Immigration Question

A Capital representative had a short interview with Mr. Freir this morning during which Mr. Freir touched on several matters respecting immigration. He referred to the new restrictions which have been placed on British immigrants, Mr. Freir, in declaring himself in sympathy with the action of the Dominion government, stated that it would prevent immigrants of a poorer quality coming to Canada.

"An immigrant," declared Mr. Freir "should have sufficient funds to bring him out here and keep him until he obtains employment. The new restrictions raise the amount necessary for an immigrant to have in his

"NOTHING TO TALK ABOUT," SAYS JOHNSON WHEN ASKED OF FIGHT

Johnson's Training Camp, Reno, Nev., July 5.—Last night was a hilarious night at road house where Jack Johnson trained for his fight with Jeffries. Business started with a rush when Johnson, returning from the arena with his newly acquired fortune and laurels ordered wine for everybody in the resort. Johnson himself drank beer. Crowds came out from the city to see the champion and they, too, spent freely.

Given an impetus the winning of about $10,000 by various members of the camp, the games of chance did a fine business. There was singing and dancing. Johnson was the main attraction while he was in evidence. As he had planned to go to Chicago on the train that left at 9.45 o'clock, however, much of his time was taken up in packing.

Loud cheers greeted the negro when he returned from the fight. He went from the arena to his camp in an automobile with Billy Delaney, his chief adviser.

The whole camp rushed out to greet him. His wife was one of the first to reach him. She saw the fight, but reached the resort before her husband arrived.

"Oh, Jack, I'm so glad you won," she said.

Friends shouted, clapped their hands and whistled. Johnson grinned broadly, but said nothing to the throng outside the house. He walked into the parlor where another party awaited him, and sitting down, chatted with them for a few moments. Everybody wanted to hear about the fight. Johnson refused to take it seriously. He said he was not hurt and that there was nothing for him to talk about at all.

"Don't think I was scared at any time," he said, "I knew how it was coming out."

Before entering vaudeville in New York he will go to his Chicago home for a rest.

"I want to be with my mammy," said Jack. At his orders, a message was sent to his mother immediately after the fight, telling her of the result.

There is no animosity against Johnson, rather appreciation of his ability as a fighter With Johnson undisputed champion, the next question is: Who will wrest it from him? Ring followers agree that no man now in the game measures up to the job. Very little attention is paid to Sam Langford's challenge and the black champion himself regards it as a joke.

Crowd Unnumbered

No one knows just how many people saw the big fight or what the gate receipts were. The turnstiles were used and the tickets were on sale in so many places that only approximate figures can be given. The lowest estimate of the gate money is $230,000 and the highest $270,000. At all events, it was the biggest crowd that ever saw a prize fight and the rates were so far ahead of any other engagement that the record disappears.

From all the fight, one thing stands out sharply, there is no mention of Johnson's yellow streak," a thing that has been written and talked about ever since he came into prominence.

His statement, given out at his quarters last evening, has been well thought out, but his remarks as he stepped back to his corner after Jef-

SOME DAIRIES IN POOR CONDITION

But Owners Are Anxious to Improve—M. H. O. and New Milk Inspector Make Tour of Inspection

Dr. Whitelaw, medical health officer, accompanied by Mr. Andrew Logan, the newly appointed milk inspector, were out on a tour of inspection yesterday afternoon. They examined the dairies in the north end of the city and pursued their way down to Clover Bar. Dr. Whitelaw stated this morning that they found the dairies in the north end to be in poor shape, although every owner was anxious that things should be improved. They were delighted with the appointment of a milk inspector of Mr. Logan's calibre and look for much advice from him, as to the best way to conduct their business.

The dairies at Clover Bar were found to be in excellent condition and came in for much commendation from Mr. Logan.

Score Cards Are Liked

The score-card system has already been found to be highly successful and the farmers and dairymen are much pleased with it as it enables them to know at any thime just what is the matter with their cattle. There has only been one objection to it and that was made by a man who thought that the milk inspector was interfering with the farmers' business.

Royal Commission Resumed Sittings This Morning—Only Three Counsel Present

MR. R. B. BENNETT ABSENT

John Stocks and E. Trowbridge Also Gave Evidence—Some of Cushing's "Absolute Falsehood," Says Trowbridge

The Royal Commission investigating the Alberta and Great Waterways Company was again in session this morning, when several witnesses were examined but very little was forthcoming.

Mr. J. M. McLeod, deputy minister of the treasury, was the first, and his evidence consisted mainly of a series of denials of any recollections of any affairs in connection with the guaranteeing of the bonds of the A. & G. W He stated, however, that Mr. Harkness, the New York bond agent, had announced that he intended to make money on the re-sale of the bonds.

Mr. John Stocks was also examined and told plainly of his objections to the specifications of the road and also stated his opinions as to the members of the company. He was of the opinion that they were careless in their choosing of a route and were promoters who did not intend to operate the line.

M. J. McLeod Called First

The first witness was Mr. McLeod, deputy minister of the treasury department, who was questioned as to his knowledge concerning the incorporation and guaranteeing of the bonds of the company. Mr. McLeod said that it was in the fall of 1908, but that he did not remember any details of the affar. He had no knowledge that the government was dealing with the matter until the order-in-council came into his hands.

From Mr. Woods he learnt of the sale of the company's bonds; he had none from Mr. Clarke or any person connected with the company.

When he left Edmonton for New York he was instructed as to the handling of the bonds. He was in New York for three or four days in company with Minty, Woods, Clarke, Goddard and while there he met Mr. Cross. His only duty on that trip was to look after the guarding of the bonds.

Intended to Profit on Bonds

In New York there was a meeting in Mr. Hartess' office of himself, Clarke and Minty at which Mr. Hartess said that he did not intend to sell the bonds at the same price he paid for them.

Asked if he knew of any member of the government being given any interest in the construction company or in the railway company, he answered "No."

"Or any money promised or given to any member of the government?"

"No."

"Did you ever get any information from Mr. Clarke respecting inner workings of the company?"

"No."

Mr. Stocks on the Stand

Mr. Stocks, deputy minister of public works, was then put in the box.

Mr. Stocks said he was a friend of Woodman's, but that he had had no knowledge of the Athabasca Railway Company except afterwards in some correspondence with Woodman.

In November, 1908, he heard of the proposition from Clarke, Minty and Waddell—previous to that he had no knowledge of the company.

Later Mr. Cushing and Mr. Stocks had a meeting with Mr. Clarke and Mr. Waddell at which the physical features of the proposed route were discussed—no mention of asking aid from the government was made.

Another meeting was held later in the same day at which a written report of the country through which the railway was to run, was produced. Clarke, Minty and Waddell were at this meeting.

A PROVINCIAL MINERALOGIST REQUIRED

The presence in Edmonton of Dr. J. W. Rees of Cornell University, who is investigating on behalf of the Dominion Geological Survey the possibilities of the district in the way of fire-clays, may mean much to us. He made a similar enquiry in the Maritime provinces and the people soon began to realize that a source of great natural wealth had been overlooked. large industries are beginning to follow. With all our coal deposits, the same thing should happen in this part of the west, provided Dr. Rees makes as favorable a report as he did for the provinces down by the sea.

His visit serves to call attention to the fact that in Alberta we are very badly in need of improved facilities for carrying on work of investigation of this character. The Geological Survey does nothing like as much for us as is required. The province should appoint a geologist of its own. By taking the initiative in this connection itself, Ontario has done a very great deal towards discovering its mineral possibilities. Prof. W. G. Miller, who holds this post in the older province, has been the direct means of stimulating mineral production there to an enormous extent. We know that Alberta has rich potentialities along this line, but we need to have exact information in regard to them. The appointment of such an official as we have suggested would involve an infinitesmal expenditure when the great industrial development that he could be the means of bringing about is considered.

The chief justiceship of the Supreme Court of the United States is one of the great posts of the world. From the time of John Marshall down it has been occupied for the most part by men of commanding ability and its traditions were well upheld during the twenty-two years tenure of office of Melville W. Fuller, whose sudden death was announced yesterday. He was appointed during Mr. Cleveland's first term, having occupied for a lengthy period a distinguished position at the Chicago Bar. He was in his 77th year and his early superannuation had been forecasted in the newspapers for some time, speculation being rife as to his probable successor. The principle of promotion has never obtained and an outsider is certain to be brought in.

Rev. Dr. Alex. Sutherland, who died in Toronto last week, after a lingering illness, deserves to be well remembered in this part of Canada. As superintendent of Methodist missions he was early on the ground in the West and to the thoroughness with which he carried on his work was due to no small extent the manner in which the church of which he was so devoted a servant, kept pace with the country's development. He was a singularly broad-minded, lovable man, one of the old school of Methodists, who preserved in his methods and his mode of life all that was best in that school and kept fully in touch with modern progress as well.

The Calgary Albertan, in referring to the suggested candidature of Mr. A. J. Robertson in Gleichen, says:

"Mr. Robertson sat by and saw the A. & G. W. pass through the House without alarming the country about it. It is true that many Liberal members did the same, but there is excuse for the Liberals, for they placed their trust in leaders who were unworthy of that trust; but the same excuse does not apply to a Conservative, particularly one who called himself the Conservative leader. Mr. Robertson, by virtue of his position, was sitting in the house to keep bills such as that from going through the house. He failed.

"Next to the men who are primarily to blame for saddling such legislation upon the house, Mr. Robertson is most responsible to the country for the passing of the iniquitous act.

"The Conservatives can not afford to endorse him as a candidate for any riding."

The Capital hasn't any brief for Mr. Robertson. He didn't measure up to the requirements of an opposition leader. But everyone knows that that post was not of his own seeking and that having thrust it upon him by a unique conjunction of circumstances, he gave the best that was in him to its duties. To talk about holding him responsible with his single follower (who, by the way, didn't follow him when the government's railway policy was announced), for any unwise legislation that might have gone through is the height of ridiculousness. When the A. & G. W. bill came up, Mr. Robertson did have something to say about it. His observations were in line with those which the Albertan began to make a year after the bill went through. Why, then, should it denounce him and have nothing to say about the course of Mr. Cushing, who was a member of the government which introduced the legislation and remained so for months afterwards? He was responsible for the bill as much as any other member of the cabinet. Not only did he have a hand in bringing it before the House, but he supported it against Mr. Bennett's criticisms in the election which followed. The Albertan itself shouted for Rutherford and railways. Did it not bother itself with investigating what the government's railway policy involved? Is it in the habit of giving absolutely blind support to a party? The policy in question was, the Capital believes, in all respects calculated to advance the interests of the province. The A. & G. W. project was an integral part of it. The Albertan could not have been ignorant of what it signified and for it at this date to make the above attack on Mr. Robertson and at the same time the plea on behalf of itself and of those who have been associated with it, is an astonishing bit of effrontery.

JAPAN TO ANNEX KOREA

Mass of People Accept Outcome With Indifference

Tokio, July 5.—There is every reason to believe that an announcement of the annexation of Korea is imminent.

In accordance with the convention recently made between Korea and Japan, the Korean Emperor has issued an edict delegating to the Japanese Government the police administration of the country. This is the first step and the final step will be taken when Korea is practically under guard. The garrisons are being steadily strengthened.

The mass of Koreans accept the reports of the approaching annexation with indifference, but a decided spirit of unrest and activity among the anti-Japanese element necessitates precaution prior to the forthcoming announcement.

Lieut.-Gen. Viscount Terauchi, the Japanese resident-general of Korea, will leave for Seoul, the Korean capital, on July 15th, to confer with Emperor Yi Syek of Korea, who is reported to be in a complaisant state of mind in view of the ample provision which has been made for him, his immediate family and other members of royalty, under the annexation arrangements. The text of the Russo-Japanese convention recently made will be published soon in St. Petersburg.

HUSKIES BIT THE DUST, GAME LASTED 10 INNINGS

Visitors Tied Score in Ninth and Moose Baxter Knocked in Winning Run 3--2—Dellar Deserves Praise.

THERE may have been some little excitement in Reno, Nev., yesterday afternoon, but it wasn't 1-2-8 with the volume of voice that was uncorked at Diamond Park, Edmonton, Alberta, between the hours of 6.30 and 8.30.

For were not the Huskies, our hated rivals, the raison d'etre of the gathering?

And didn't we gather the raisons in a bag and sent them back to their hotel? We did.

Johnson may have won some trifling little championship for knocking another dub around a ring, but he is practically unknown in this city beside the great and only Phil Dellar, the pitching phenom.

History repeated itself at Diamond Park last night. On opening day, Dellar and Geehan opposed one another, the game went extra innings, and the final score was 3-2. Practically the same thing happened yesterday, except that the game went ten instead of fifteen innings.

Both pitchers twirled as if their lives depended upon it, and they were backed up by their team mates in big league style. Calgury got only three hits off Dellar, fanned on five occasions and received four passes. Geehan allowed five hits, walked four and fanned five.

Carney only made himself conspicuous on one occasion and seemed very much on his good behavior. Kellackey did all the unnecessary kicking.

Mills carried off the batting honors with two singles, while Morse had a double and Spenser and Baxter singles. Moose's effort was the one that won the game.

Clynes had a triple to his credit, Smith and Connors getting a single each.

Dellar certainly pitched gilt-edged ball and had the heavy-hitting visitors guessing at all stages. He is easily the leading pitcher in the league, Heinrich, Claflin, Standridge, etc., not excepted.

There was a large attendance, 1500, and a ground rule was in force.

Fight by Rounds

Round 1—Paddock fouls out to Brennan while Pete Morse, by dazzling footwork, gets Carney and Clynes at first.

Eskimos—Mills gave Clynes a difficult chance in left and Baxter wobbles one to pitcher and is retired at first. Pete Morse then knocked one of Geehan's pet shoots on the solar plexus and the ball took a two-base count. Chesty contributed a grounder to the batile, which did no damage.

An Uninteresting Round

Calgary—Smith, Kellackey and Flannagan were quickly sent to the ropes, the latter flailing the high altitude.

Eskimos—Short and sweet. Lussi whiffed, Stub grounded out, likewise Quigley.

They Reach Third

Calgary—Chuck Connors, the boy detective, coaxed four wide ones, stole second and reached third on a sacrifice fly, but it was then a case of R. I. P. Dellar inflicted horrible punishment on Standridge and Paddock.

Eskimos—A hard round for us. Brennan and Dellar ozoned and Mills grounded out.

Their First Hit

Round four—Carney and Clynes were easy money. Smithie then tore off a single and proceeded to get adventurous and lead off first. A quick throw from Hon. Dellar cooked his goose.

Eskimos—Baxter flied to Connors, Morse walked, Chesty and Lussi contributed nothing as their donation.

It Looked Ticklish

Kellackey walked, by grace of Longnecker and Flannagan was hit in the back porch. But as umpire Smith would say, "There was nuttin' doin'." Dellar proceeded to fan Connors while Standridge and Geehan flied to the outfield.

A Delightful Moment

Stub, first up in the fifth, hit over third bag for a safety and took second when Paddock gracefully refused to bend over, and Quigley's grounder went between his legs. Johnny Brennan dribbled one to Geehan, and Eddie nailed Spenser at the difficult corner. Dellar hit to Connors and Brennan was forced at second. Rube Mills then obliged with a single and Quigley crossed the plate amid deafening applause. Brennan flied out. One run.

Nothing Doing

Paddock grounded, Carney flied to Morse, Clynes took first when Quigley failed to handle his nasty bounder. Babe took diberties with our peerless pitcher and was caught cold off first.

Morse fanned and Chesty walked; Lussi and Spenser both hit grounders to Connors and were set back.

Smith, Kellackey and Flannagan all went out on grounders, in the seventh. Dellar stabbed a hard one off Kell.

Quigley, Brennan and Dellar walked into the batting box, turned around and walked right out again. Smith pulled off a beautiful pick up and peg off Brennan's slow grounder towards third.

In the eighth, Connors flied to Mills, Standridge fanned and Geehan grounded, Brennan to Baxter, Moose making a good recovery of a poor throw.

Strike Up the Band

Mills led off with a long fly to the busy and efficient Monsieur Clynes. Baxter waited patiently and was rewarded for his perseverance by a gift. Moose then insinuated himself a trifle off first and the half proceeded to fling the ball into the overflow crowd. Moose marathoned to third on the overthrow, while Carney, Kellackey and a few more desperate villans tried to convince Lougie that second base should be Baxter's temporary stopping place. Deacon and Quigley joined in the debate and, after five or ten minutes of wordy persiflage, the umpire gave a decision in favor of the affirmative. Moose stayed at third, but only for a minute. Pete Morse nipped off a sacrifice fly to centre and our total reached two. Chesty was neatly sent to the hospital by a swift shooter and then had it rubbed in, when attempting a steal. One run.

O! What a Dizziness

Paddock stepped to the plate for what we thought was the last innings and flied to Lussi. Much delight. The next man up was Gentleman Bill Carney and Dellar handed him free transportation. Gee, but it was costly, as Clynes tried to knock down the score board, with a beautiful triple and Carney scored. Smith sent one to Morse and Pete returned a bounding throw to the plate. Stub touched Clynes out, and then the ball was knocked from his hands, the run scoring. Kellackey fanned and Flannagan was retired on grounder. Two runs and the score a tie.

We Tried Hard, But—!

Lussi started the ninth by fanning Spensed continued it by flying to Smith and Quigley finished it with a grounder to Paddock.

Chuck Reached Second

The Huskies had us on the anxious seat in the first of the tenth. Connors started with a safety to centre and Peter sacrificed him to second. Geehan popped a little one to Spenser and Morse looked after Paddocks contribution. No runs.

Banzai, Banzai

Brennan was passed, took second on Dellar's neat sacrifice, and romped to third when Mills beat out a bunt. The Rube then stole second and Baxter, bat in hand and with a determined visage, strode to the plate. Moose appeased the frenzied fans with the neatest and cleanest kind of a single to right and Brennan parneyed over the saucer with the winning run. You can imagine the scene that ensued.

Cut this box score out and send it to your friends in Calgary.

THE FATAL FIFTEENTH

Round 15.—There were no bright faces in Jeff's corner and it certainly looked as if the big fellow was fading away. Jeff come out with his guard held high and blocked a straight left and they clinched. Johnson was there with a straight left and followed it with another. They clinched near the ropes. As they broke away Johnson sent a right on the chin and Jeff went against the ropes. He arose slowly and Johnson knocked through the ropes in another left swing. As a matter of fact Jeff was knocked out this time, as the count of ten elapsed, he was puled to his feet and into the ring. Jeff spat out a mouthful of teeth and reeled around the ring with Johnson after him. Johnson struck him with left and right both times in the face. Jeff fell again but arose to his feet slowly, but was counted out meanwhile, and Sam Berger jumped into the ring with the evident intention of acknowledging defeat in case the knockout had not been complete.

A GREAT FIGHT

The greatest ring battle fought in recent years was on Washington's birthday at Richmond, California, when after forty rounds of terrific fighting, Battling Nelson was forced to release the lightweight championship of the world in favor of Ad Wolgast, of Cadillac, Michigan. Nelson the pride of Hegewisch, Illinois, and accredited with being able to stand more punishment than any other fighter of modern times was given an awful mauling by Ad. Wolgast, despite the fact that the "Durable Dane" was the aggressor and forced the fighting throughout the forty spectacular rounds.

The pictures of this fight have been pronounced by the princing experts and moving picture manufacturers to be the clearest and most distinct of any heretofore produced. These pictures will be seen for three days starting July 7th at the Empire.

JOHNSON PLAYED WITH JEFF AT ALL STAGES, THE WHITE MAN WAS NEVER IN THE RUNNING

It Was a Virtual Knock-out—A Big Surprise in Edmonton

(By W. W. McNaughton)

Ringside, Reno, July 4.—Jack Johnson proved himself Jeffries' master today at every stage of the battle. Even the greatest of strength that was looked for in Jeffries, seemed to be in Johnson's favor.

In the early rounds, with the pressure of his right glove, he twisted Jeffs' left arm almost into the hammerlock position to prevent the big fellow using it while breaking.

As the rounds went on Johnson's confidence came to him and he took all kinds of liberties with Jeff. As a rule Johnson whips his men with his right uppercut. He used it a few times today, but it was left hooks and left uppercuts, while clinching that brought Jeffries to terms.

With this kind of fighting Jeffries was powerless after a few rounds had passed. He could not devise a way of escape, and was punished while they were feinting and swinging at close quarters.

It seemed the easiest thing in the world for Johnson to free his left arm and tilt the big fellow's head. First of all blood came from Jeff's mouth, and then his right eye closed. His nose poured blood.

After the sixth round the battle had a decidedly Johnson flavor. Jeff got in a few body blows while going into a clinch, but he was slowly chopped to pieces, and all Johnson's best licks were put in on Jeff when they were coming together. In the fifteenth round Jeff was knocked down three times with left hooks delivered by Johnson while standing away.

Sam Berger was entering the ring on the occasion of the last knock-down to acknowledge defeat, and in the meantime Jeff was declared out.

Official Time-keeper Harting had just announced that only eight seconds had elapsed when Berger jumped into the ring to protect Jeff from another punch." Harting says that Jeff would have been counted out anyhow, as he could not have straightened up in time before the count.

Owing to Berger's interference the victory will be counted as a knockout.

Jeffries Ready to Start

2.24 p. m.—Jeffries is taking a rub and is stripped for the ring in his dressing room. After some more introduction of champions and ex-champion fighters, the crowd began to yell for the big fellow to appear.

Sam Langford, the crack middleweight, was presented and announced he would challenge Johnson for $10,000, win or lose.

Johnson Enters Ring

Johnson entered the ring at 2.28 p. m. Johnson was followed by his seconds. Johnson entered from the northeast corner.

Johnsons seconds are: Billy Delaney, Al Kaufman, Prof. Burns, Geo. Cotton, "Doc" Furey, Dave Mills and Harry Foley. Johnson's timekeeper is Stanley Ketchel.

Jeffries Appears

Jeffries entered the ring from the southeast at 2.31 p. m.

Johnson gave Jeffries the southeast corner. Jeffries' entry into the arena was the signal for a tremendous outburst of enthusiasm.

Jeffries' seconds are: Jim Corbett, Abe Attell, Joe Choynski, Bob Armstrong, Eugene Vancourt, Farmer Burns, Roger Cornell and Sam Berger.

Jeffries' timekeeper is Bill Callaghan.

"I don't care what corner you put me in, its all the same to me," said Jeff as he sat in his chair, attired in ordinary street costume and chewing gum, while Abe Attell wound cotton about his hands.

Crowd Didn't Cheer Johnson

At 2.45 p. m. Johnson was presented as the heavyweight champion of the world. He was clad in blue trunks with the American flag entwined. A very weak reception was tendered the champion. While Johnson was stripped and ready in his corner, the Jeffries' people were putting on Jim's bandages.

Johnson Cheers Jeffries

At 2.45 Jeffries' seconds were still winding surgical bandages around the undefeated champion's wrists.

At 2.48 Jeffries stripped. He wore purple trunks and the American flag. Jack Johnson clapped and cheered Jeff with the rest of the crowd as the big white was introduced as "the great and only undefeated champion of the world, James J. Jeffries."

Jeffries folded his arms behind him and gazed over the vast assemblage which cheered again and again.

Both men looked fit to fight any number of rounds.

Put on the Gloves

At 2.48 the men donned their gloves. Johnson's smile was much in evidence as he sat in his corner.

Tex Rickard, referee, and Charlie White, alternate referee, were then introduced.

The Fight Begins

Round one—The men refused to shake hands. Johnson smiled and Jeffries calmly chewed gum. After a long opening session of sparring, Johnson shot his left to the face and they clinched. Johnson pushed Jeff back. Johnson swung his left to the jaw and as Jeff roughed it at close quarters, the big black shot his left again to the face. The men locked arms and in the break Jeffries clouted his man twice with two short-arm lefts to face and crowd yelled.

"Why don't you laugh," shouted Corbett at Johnson and the latter winked and smiled back at the former champion. The men continued in a locked embracement and as the gong terminated the round Johnson playfully tapped Jeffries on the shoulder and went to his corner smiling.

Jeff then told his seconds to let him alone, he would fight his own battle. It was a tame round.

Second Round

Round 2—Johnson came out chatting, but Jeff only smiled.

"He wants to fight a little bit," yelled Corbett.

"You bet I do, Mistah Corbett," retorted the champion.

As Jeff held on, Johnson clouted him with a wicked right to the jaw. As the men separated in a clinch, Jeff swung the right to the stomach to which Johnson retaliated with two uppercuts to the jaw. The men closed together, Jeff leaning against the champion with sheer weight of his shoulders. It was a case of strength against cleverness with the Nubian heaving on Jeffries.

Corbett and Jeff kidded each other constantly during the minute's respite between the second and third rounds.

JAMES J. JEFFRIES

JACK JOHNSON

The Victor in Yesterday's Battle—See Him Smiling

Johnson Better in Third

Round 3.—Both men come up slowly.

"Come in, Jim," shouted Johnson, saying which, the champion hooked his left to the stomach with much froce. Johnson then jabbed his left twice to the face and as they closed in breast to breast, Johnson whipped a left uppercut to the jaw and nearly blocked Jeffs onslaught.

As the men circled about the ring Johnson kept up a constant cross-fire of conversation. The men separated and Johnson jabbed thrice with the left to the face and whipped a short-arm right to the face. A long clinch followed during which the black missed a wicked right up-cut.

Jeff rushed, but Johnson blocked him with a vicious right swing and again patted his antagonist on the shoulder as the round ended. Johnson on points had a good advantage, but there was not much power behind his stings.

Jeff Draws First Blood

Round 4—Jeff missed a left swing, Johnson's rushing away leaving a stab to the face. Johnson taunted Jeffries constantly. "Don't rush, Jim, don't you hear what I'm telling you," shouted Johnson, backing it up with a right uppercut to the jaw.

Jeff got in a right to the mouth and blood started flowing from the colored man's lips.

"First blood for Jeffries," yelled the crowd.

Johnson shot a hard left to the mouth and almost wrested his man against the ropes. The "gooden smile" had not faded from Johnson's face at this stage. Jeff forced the champion against the ropes and a half dozen short-arm body punches found their mark in rapid succession.

Johnson shot a right to the jaw and the rounde ended. It was Jeff's round and the best so far.

Johnson Begins to Think

Round 5.—Johnson, as usual, came up with a volley of words. Jeffries paid no attention to this, but rushed in close and they wrestled for a spell. At close quarters, Jeff shot two rights to the body to which Johnson responded with left uppercuts, cutting Jeffries lip a bit. Johnson, a moment later drove his right to the jaw and then followed it with two left uppercuts to the same place.

Johnson jarred the white man with a straight left to mouth and they eased up in a clinch. Both men were bleeding at the mouth.

Suddenly Jeffries sent the black's head back a foot with a straight left to the mouth and Johnson looked a bit serious as he took his seat, not, however, without giving Jeffries the customary round of love taps with no serious damage.

Round 6—"I'm going to mix with him now," said Johnson to his seconds. Three lefts radiated from the champion's shoulder, catching Jeff on the face in each instance and blood seeped from Jeff's left cheekbone. Both men fought cautiously.

A ringside fan asked Johnson if he possession on entering the country to fifty dollars from the first of October until the spring.

This, continued Mr. Freir, was quite proper as that season of the year was the hardest in which to find employment.

Should Run Excursions

Mr. Freir has an idea which should be of inestimable benefit to immigrants and that is an excursion to the old country in the autumn and a return one in the spring. This would relieve the congestion which occurs in the Canadian labor market every year, as many immigrants would go home to spend this season of the year and could live comfortably on the summers savings. It would also tend to create a large number of "amateur immigration agents." These would consist of immigrants successful in Canada, who on their return home in the fall would immediately begin to advise others of the same stamp as themselves to come to this country.

When asked to compare Australia with Canada in the matter of immigration, Mr. Freir said that although the antipodical colony was rapidly being settled, yet Canada still received the bulk of British immigrants. This was the case even in the face of the fact that it was cheaper to immigrate to Australia and that the Australian government guaranteed employment.

Mr. Freir then branched off into the question of imperial preference, exxpressng his approval of the empire policy

New York, July 5.—"I hereby make formal demand of the Supreme Court of the United States to procure me an honest lawyer to plead for justice to me, if the United States of America has laws capable to protect me. If not, then, the Legislature must be appealed to."

Such is the beginning of a complaint handed in to the County Clerk's office this morning, headed "Ida von Claussen, Hotel Seymour, vs. Charles Graves, Stockholm, Mrs. Alice Wright Graves, Theodore Roosevelt and Robert Bacon, American Embassy at Paris." It was a woman in a green silk dress that asked to have the complaint filed, but when the clerk read the opening paragraph he told her she couldn't file such a document.

What She Wants

The woman said that she was Mrs. von Claussen, that she had drawn the document herself, and that she was satisfied from the stamping done by the clerk that the document had been regularly filed, which was all she wanted. She wouldn't take it back.

Mrs. von Claussen's "complaint" says that she has "found it impossible to secure the services of an honest lawyer to take my case against the government representatives who maliciously slandered and robbed me of the freedom to which I am entitled under the laws of freedom," wherefore she "herewith files complaint and institutes suit for slander, malice and revenge and demands $1,000,000 from the defendants named."

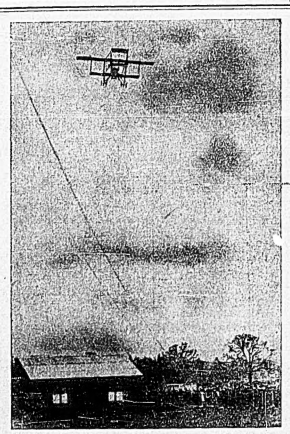

Mr. Graves, the United States Minister to Sweden, has been the subect of frequent statements from Mrs. von Claussen for several years, based on her allegation that he wouldn't forward her introduction to the Swedish court when he knew that the late King Oscar had commanded her to appear, and that he prevented her from "contracting a royal marriage."

CON LEAHY, THE IRISH ATHLETE

Now a Resident of U.S.A.—Holds the Olympic Championship for Jumping

Con Leahy, the subject of this article, is one of half a dozen brothers, each of whom has been foremost in the ranks of our Irish athletes. Con was born in Limerick anywhere about thirty years ago, and I am sorry to say, has taken up his domicile in America, a country which seems to have a great attraction for our crack athletes, and very many of the "world's records" set up there have been accomplished by athletes who gained their experience and prowess in Ireland. Leahy, won the high jump championship five or six years in succession, and was victorious in the International, Scotland vs. Ireland, on several occasions. He also put to his credit the English championship three or four years. Taking his courage in both hands he "invaded" America, and meeting a number of celebrities there was fortunate enough to win the high jump. He was one of the crack athletes who entered the arena in the Olympic games. He succeeded in jumping his way into second place, a most exciting contest taking place, between himself and America's champion, Harry Porter. The latter after a Herculean effort, ousted Con from first place, beating him by only one inch, the American's figures being six feet two inches. This was one of the keenest contests ever witnessed for the jump. Leahy, who is very versatile as an athlete, is very proficient in the hop, step and leap. In this style of exercise he could cover forty-eight feet or so. He won the long jump championship on one occasion. He has picked up "pots" at hurdle races and for the long jump time without number. Some half-dozen years ago he journeyed to the home of the Olympic Games, Athens. Here he met the best athletes the world could produce. His item was the high jump, and there were some athletes entered for this bringing with them records that seemed unbreakable. However, Con is not one of those people who go through the world suffering from that strange complaint called 'nerves,' and the more exciting the occasion, the cooler becomes Leahy, and when the name of the victor was announced, it was that of Con. Leahy, of Ireland. His success in this world-famous contest was a most gratifying event. Although such a hard one to beat when contesting, it is hard to make Leahy "get a move on" in the direction of training for any competition. He takes things very much as they come so far as athletes are concerned and may be written down as a born athlete, for he is always in form, and takes little preparation to make him as fit as a fiddle. Leahy comes from a large family, the male members of which are all devotees to athletic sports and physical exercises. One of his brothers, Paddy, at present holds the record for the high jump, he having successfully negotiated the lath at an elevation of 6 feet 4¾ inches. The other brothers can hold their own in various branches of sport, but do not quite reach championship honors.—Weekly Irish Times.

HUDSON BAY ROW MAY BE SETTLED

Hague Tribunal May Define Canada's Right — No Official Word of U.S. Action

London, July 4.—In the Commons today, Col. Seeley, under secretary of the colonies, said that he had no official confirmation of the report that the United States government had authorized the United States whalers to disregard Canadian jurisdiction in the Hudsons Bay Straits.

Washington, D. C., July 4.—State department officials are in a quandary. The question as to whether Hudson Bay is a closed sea completely controlled by Canada as is contended by the government of that country, according to the Ottawa dispatches, may be vitally affected by the decision of The Hague tribunal upon the large issues which are now being argued before it by eminent British and American counsel.

The question has come up only in a rather incidental way through the assertion by the Canadians of their right to impose a smal ltax upon American vessels entering Hudson Bay. The payment of that tax, however, might constitute a complete recognition of the Canadian title. In view of the probable construction of a new Canadian railway from the Pacific to Hudson Bay, giving a much shorter route to Europe for the great wheat shipments in the far west, the matter, it is said, is one which cannot be overlooked by far-sighted American statesmen.

Last year for the first time the attention of the state department was attracted to the subject and several American whaling captains were informally advised that they need not pay the tax and they did not do so. There are no similar instructions this year, and it is assumed that New England fishermen are simply acting in conformity with the original advice. The first article of the treaty of 1818 is the principal matter of discussion before The Hague tribunal and that article refers to the fishing rights. It recognizes the liberty of Americans to fish not only on the Newfoundland coast, "to and through the straits of Belle Isle and thence northerly indefinitely along the coast,' so the question is, what is the coast? Does the fishing right leap across the entrance of Hudson Bay from Labrador to the frozen north shore, or does it follow the sinuosities of that coast and completely skirt the edge of the Hudson Bay? In the latter case the American ships would have complete right of entry into Hudson Bay. The outer entrance is about forty miles across so that if the ordinary rule of jurisdiction of three miles from the coast line were followed the bay might be regarded as an open sea. If, however, the headland theory holds good, and the line of eclusion is drawn from one headland on the south to one on the north, the bay would be closed.

CATTLE THIEF APPEALS

Jack Dubois, Now in Penitentiary, Carries Case to Supreme Court

Jack Dubois, who was alleged to be the ringleader of a gang of cattle thieves who roamed a portion of the province a few years ago, and who is now undergoing a term of imprisonment in the penitentiary for the theft of a steer from the Hailey Ranch Co., Red Deer, and who spent thousands of dolars to retain the best criminal lawyers for his defence, is determined to fight to the end; and if money can do it, will secure his freedom by the fall. Against the decision of Judge Scott he has appealed to the supreme court, and the case will be heard at the Edmonton sitting of the court en banc in September.

FORTY KILLED AND HUNDRED INJURED

Terrible Train Wreck Took Place Near Ohio Town Yesterday

ENGINE MASS OF RUINS

Trains Were Going at Fifty Miles an Hour When Collision Occurred

Middletown, Ohio, July 4.—Forty people are dead and between eighty and one hundred are injured as a result of a wreck on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton line, between the Big Four, Twentieta Century Limited and a Cincinnati and Hamilton freight train, a quarter of a mile west of Middletown early this afternoon.

Four of the bodies have been brought to various undertaking establishments in Middletown, but up to a late hour last evening only a few of them had been identified.

The engines are a mass of rains. The passenger coaches were telescoped, while the smoker went over the baggage car and landed in a corn field. Hardly a passenger on the train escaped without some injuries.

The Big Four train was bowling along at fifty miles an hour. It was said here this evening that the engineers of the two trains had not seen the other's engine until too close to prevent the accident.

Orders had been given, it was said, for a clear track for the Big Four train, which left Dayton about one o'clock this afternoon, and was trying to make up the olst time of ten minutes.

The collision occurred a mile west of Middletown. The engines crashed together with a terrific impact and they crashed into and through the cars of both trains

IRRIGATION AND AGRICULTURE IN OREGON

The uneven distribution of rainfall in the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue river valleys gives a typical humid climate during the months of October to May, inclusive; and during the principal growing months of June, July and August, almost truly arid conditions exist. Under the agricultural practices of the past, this condition was beneficial rather than otherwise. Extremely mild winters, early, moist springs and dry summers were ideal for the production of grain, and as grain was a remunerative crop, all farms were given up to its production. Fertile as these soils were at the beginning, they could not indefinitely continue to produce paying crops under the abuse they had suffered. Productiveness deteriorated, slowly at first, until lands that once produced sixty bushels of wheat per acre now produce only from ten to twelve.

As wheat at twelve bushels per acre is not a paying business, agriculture in that section is undergoing a radical change. Diversified farming is taking the place of the one time single-crop system. But although the dry season was helpful to the wheat grower, permitting the harvesting of his crop, which has been grown during the moist mild winters and warm springs, in the best possible condition, it retards the growing crops which must be planted in the spring and harvested in the fall. They suffer for lack of moisture in a climate where for ninety days not enough rain falls to do more than replace the evaporation. Forage crops, root crops, vegetables, hops and fruits must have moisture, and that is just what the climate of Oregon does not provide during the best growing months of the year. What nature does not provide, man must, or the problem confronting the farmers of western Oregon remains unsolved, or rather, solves itself adversely to the welfare of that section.

The United States Department of Agriculture, through its irrigation office, undertook an investigation to determine the feasibility of irrigation as a means of further intensive agriculture in this region. The result has just been published by Secretary Wilson in Buletin 226 of the Office of Experiment Stations. With the need of irrigation during the dry summer months proven, and the great value of irrigation demonstrated, the feasibility and practicability of developing it on an extensive scale is conclusively shown, as there is an abundant water supply, the general topography especially favors a cheap, economical delivery of it to the land, and the soils are adapted to the growing of crops under irrigation.

McLEOD KNEW A. & W. G.

Another meeting of Clarke, Minty, Waddell, Cross and Cushing at which Mr. Stocks was present, was held, at which the route of the A. & G. W. was discussed and some mention was also made of the bonds.

The cost of the line was discussed and Mr. Stocks heard Woods mention $20,000 as the cost, while some member of the government suggested $18,000. Mr. Stocks had no recollection of the discussion about the guaranteeing of the bonds.

"Then your mind as to what was said at this meeting is practically a blank?"

"I do not remember what was said; I just remember the general subjects discussed."

"Have you ever been approached as to what would be a reasonable guarantee for the government to make?"

Mr. Cushing spoke to me on the subject asking for information, for the fixing of the bond guarantee. He wanted to know what the route was like and what guarantee had been given to other railways under similar circumstances."

"Did you have any other discussions with any other member of the government, or of the company concerning the guaranteeing of the bonds?"

"I have no recollection,"

Turning to the question of specifications, Mr. Johnstone asked why Mr. Stocks had objected to the specifications handed in by Dr. Wadell, off. Stocks said that he objected to loam as ballast and also to the grades His own were rejected and compromise specifications made out.

"Did Mr. Cushing indicate to you at any time that he was not satisfied with the negotiations between the company and the government?"

"Yes, earlier in the year."

"What was he dissatisfied with?"

"The guarantee Act and the specifications."

Mr Stocks then said that from the meetings he was present at he had the idea that the personnel of the company were promoters and did not intend to operate the road.

"In what way did you form that opinion?"

"The way they discussed the route and the carelessness of the placing of the route did not seem to be right."

"Who did you refer to as the promoters.?"

"I mostly refer to the man who provided the capital and the engineer."

"Mr. Clark and Dr. Waddell?"

"Yes."

"Did you think the engineers were not capable?"

"Oh, no; I did not think that?"

Mr. Nolan then said that he would like to ask Mr. Stocks if the mention of $18,000 and $20,000 at the meeting was in reference to the cost of the line or to the guaranteeing of the bonds

Mr. Stocks said he thought it was as to the cost of the road.

"But if anyone said it was for the guaranteeing of the bonds you could not contradict him?.'

"I don't know."

"Are you aware that Mr Cushing produced in the House an estimate supposed to be made by you, for $8,000 a mile?"

"No, I was not aware of it."

In answer to a question Mr. Stocks said he did not know if Mr. Cushing was present at either sittings of the house in February, 1909, when the bill for the incorporating of the A. & G. W. was introduced.

Mr. Nolan then produced the minutes of the house which showed Mr. Cushing to be there.

Mr. Trowbridge Called

The next witness was Mr Trowbridge, at one time private secretary to Mr. Cushing.

On the 24th of May Mr. Trowbridge wrote to Mr. Walsh enclosing a letter from Mr Cushing to Hon. Frank Oliver. Mr. Walsh wanted to know—by the letter was not produced before, and Mr. Trowbridge said that it was private correspondence and he was not asked for it. Then, asked why he produced it at all, Mr. Trowbridge said he thought better of it, and sent it to Mr. Walsh. Mr. Cushing told him to burn the letter, which he did not do, the reason being that Mr. Cushing denied being present at the meeting on the 14th of September, thereby making Mr. Trowbridge's word of honor that he had been there of no effect

Mr. Walsh then asked if there was anything more that he wished to say about the Oliver letter and Mr. Trowbridge replied that there was not.

Another letter written according to Mr Trowbridge on the 7th of October, was said by Mr. Cushing in his evidence to have been written a month earlier. Mr. Trowbridge, when asked if this was true, said it was an absolute falsehood. None of the letters were read or gone into.

The Calgary Meeting

Questioned by Mr. Walsh, Mr. Trowbridge said that he knew there had been a meeting during the Calgary fair week in 1908 to discuss the question of government aid, and another meeting in September. At these meetings Mr. Cushing in his speeches, which were prepared by Mr. Trowbridge said that $20,000 was sufficient for the cost of the line Mr. Cushing's speeches were all prepared by Mr. Trowbridge, who was sometimes sent to report the speech in case Mr. Cushing changed it around or said anything different.

On October 7th, Mr. Cushing saw the orders in council concerning the specifications of the line and expressed his approval of them.

ater he got copes of the orders which showed the specifications and did not say what he wanted them for

That was all the discussions that Mr. Trowbridge had with Mr. Cushing about the matter until his resignation.

"Do you know anything of the secrets of the A. & G. W. Company?"

"No.'

"Or of the Canada West Construction Company?"

"No."

"It was suggested that while you were with Mr. Cushing you were paid to act as a spy; is that right?"

"It certainly is not right, my relations with Mr. Cushing were of the very best."

The court then adjourned till 2 o'clock, when Mr Nolan will cross-examine the witness.

JOHNSON WINS IN FIFTEENTH

would like a drink. "Too much on hand now," quickly rejoined the champion and he ripped in three left uppercuts to Jeff's jaw.

Jeff waded in, but was met with nasty left uppercuts that closed his right eye. Johnson followed this with two similar punches and blood spurted from the retired champion's nose as he took his seat when the bell ended the round. Jeff's seconds worked heroically on his damaged optic. Johnson's round.

Johnson Still Leads

Round 7.—Jeffries came with a ferocious frown and they closed in. A long sparring bout followed without a blow being struck. Johnson meanwhile carefully priming himself for an opening.

Although Jeffries' eye was badly bruised he never lost his poinse. Johnson laughed sarcastically as Jeffries essayed a right swing at close quarters.

With the men locked in an embrace, Johnson jolted his man three times over the damaged right eye and followed this with a right uppercut to the jaw. Jeff stopped Johnson's bickerings with a straight right to the jaw and Johnson countered with a left right to the sore face.

The bell clanged with the points on Johnson's side; Jeff looked badly cut as he took his corner.

Eighth Was Featureless

Round 8.—Jeff rushed and the black drove a left to the mouth and shortly after shot in two straight lefts to the face that carried considerable force behind them.

"Hello Jimmy," shouted the black, "did you see that one?" as they closed in without damage.

Jeff shouted "Break away, Johnson," but Johnson did not break and and laughed as Jeff missed a vicious left swing. Earlier, Jeff, at close range, had worked in two rights to the body, but failed to phase the negro. Jeffries pushed his man about the ring and the bell rang, closing a rather featureless round.

Black Talks All the Time

Round 9.—Johnson kept up a constant conversation in his corner before coming up to the scratch in this round. He hooked his left to Jeff's face with great force and continued to hurl tersely framed sentences at Jim Corbett.

Johnson hooked another left to the jaw that carried with it a world of power. After Jeff had butted with his head, Johnson flung his left to the stomach and they went to a friendly clinch.

Jeffries couched low and Johnson drove him with a wicked left full tilt in the stomach. A moment later he sent in two legt jabs to the mouth and eye, but Jeffries apparently paid little attention to these blows. The round ended in Johnsons favor and with Jeffries' face bleeding from several places.

Tenth Round

Not much life marked the coming to the centre of the ring; Johnson shot two lefts to the head and followed this with a short-arm right to the ear. A long clinch, mixed with wrestling followed. Jeffries swung his right around the body The men confinde themselves mostly to in-fighting and short streaks of wrestling, Johnson always on the alert to land a punch.

Johnson whipped two lefts to the jaw and a right upper-cut to the jaw, made Jeffries yell "Oh," audibly.

Johnson still peppered away with his left hand, clearly outboxing his sturdy opponent. It was Johnson's round.

Delaney asked Rickard to watch the gloves when the men were holding to see that they were not broken.

Jeffries Starts Rally

Round 11.—A half minute wrestling without damage opened the round and Johnson smashed Jeffries time and time again with left and right to the jaw and the big boiler-maker fought back wildly. Johnson swung a terrific right, more of an uppercut to the jaw, and followed this with a clean right uppercut to the jaw, and Jeff almost weakened. Johnson employed left and right uppercuts again and again to the jaw and varied this with left and right swings to the jaw and the blood spouted from Jeffries mouth in a stream.

Jeffries was a bad looking sight at this stage, but he suddenly electrified the crowd by making a round-end rally, landing his right to the jaw and a hard left to the body that brought the crowd to its feet. Johnson, however, had a good advantage.

Jack Grows Confident

Round 12.—The men clinched after the black had missed hard left to the jaw, remaining in this position half a minute As Jeffries rushed in, Johnson met him with a straight left and a right upper-cut to the jaw. With the breeze to the east, the black swung hard at Jeffries on the body and back, all the time keeping up a conversation with Corbett.

Johnson cleverly blocked blows intended for the body and sent home a straight right to the sore mouth, starting the blood afresh. The negro shot a straight left to the face, and then sent his man's head back a foot with similar blows.

Jeffries went to his corner spitting blood with the honors against him. Jeff's seconds were quiet at this stage.

On the other hand the Johnson corner fairly hummed with life and bustle.

Jeffries Weakened

Round 13.—The men fought without damage to a clinch and wrestled about the centre of the ring, Johnson breaking in with a volley of rights and lefts to the face and mouth. He cleverly evaded Jeff's clumsy attempts to land on the body and cutting loose, landed left and right in quick succession on the jaw and body. Jeffries weakened, at this stage a right uppercut almost lifting him from the floor. He seemed all at sea in encountering the black.

Beginning of the End

Round 14.—Jeffries was met with a straight left as he got up and a moment later another spiteful jab went to his mouth. Johnson placed his stomach within Jeffs' reach and tauntingly cried, "Ain't that a nice belly, Jim why don't you hit it.

Jim did not

They closed in, Corbett importuning his man to beware of the dangerous uppercuts.; Jeffries' right eye was almost totally closed at this stage.

Johnson sent in some rapid-fire of left jabs to the mouth and the big white shook his head.

"I'm as clever as you are, Jim," shouted Johnson to Corbett, and immediately exchanged a few.

The round ended tamely, but Johnson had all the honors and Jeffries' seconds looked blue.

The Fatal Fifteenth

Round 15.—A clinch opened the round and then Johnson rushed his man to the ropes, flooring him.

Johnson knocked Jeffries out in the fifteenth round and the white man was counted out as he hung over the ropes, his seconds and the crowd rushing into the ring before the timekeeper could count him out.

GRACE CHURCH LOSES TO McDOUGAL

The Grace Church baseball team went down to defeat before the McDougall boys last night at Taylor Park to the tune of 9—3. In the first innings the McDougall team piled up three runs and throughout the rest of the game maintained the lead. Buchanan for Grace Church was apparently not in his usual form but pitched a good game until the sixth when McDougall scored four more. Butchart for McDougall pitched a star game and was well supported. The line-up: McDougall, Butchart, p; Blayney, c; Engler, 1b; Bill, 2b; Carrouthers, 3b; Lynn, s.s.; Henry Feurt, c.f.; Carter, b.f

Grace—Buchanan, p.; Dowlng, c; Carmichael, 1b; Bamford, 2b; Hammond, 3b; McIntyre, r.f.; Murray, c.f.; E. Dowling, lf.

This game ties McDougall with First Presbyterian for first place in the League and the play-off game will be played some night this week. The Hunter-Simpson Trophy now on display in the window of the Edmonton Sporting Goods Co., is up for the winners of this League and the interest in the final games is increasing.

Charles Fergle, managing director of the Lethbridge Collieries, Ltd., has gone north to inspect some coal lands west of Edmonton.—Lethbridge Herald.

Commissioner and Mrs. G. V. Bouillon, are guests at the King Edward Hotel until their apartments at the Rene Le Marchand Manston are ready for them.

Sheriff Robertson of Edmonton is visiting Lethbridge for a couple of days. Although he has been in the west for a great many years he never before has been south of Calgary.—Lethbridge Herald.

One of the events of opening day at the Calgary exhibition was the duplication by a band of Indians of the signing of the treaty of 1877. The Albertan in its report says: "The ladies who assisted with the important event as witnesses, were Mrs. William Leslie Wood of Athabasca, who has the distinction of being the first white woman to live in Calgary, and Mrs. John McDougall, who was the first white woman to come south of Edmonton. Their presence appeared to be greatly appreciated by the Indians."

COMPANY OFFERS TO ARBITRATE

Toronto Street Railway Employees Hold Meeting at Which Offer is Accepted

Toronto, Ont., July 5.—At a mass meeting of the employees of the Toronto Street Railway last night a communication was read from General Manager Fleming in which he said the company was willing to renew the old agreement for three years, but if the men submitted their grievances to a board of conciliation under the Lemieux act, the company would ask for modifications providing that the conditions of service should be approximate to those prevailing in Montreal. The men passed a resolution pledging themselves to strike at all of the officials if the company refused to be bound by the word of the board.

MR. ADAM AND MRS. EVE TO GET A MONUMENT

Apple Growers Near Spokane Think They Owe It to Our First Parents

Spokane, Wash., July 5.—A. F. Crowell, formerly deputy state horticultural commissioner of Spokane and Stevens county, Wash., has submitted a proposal to the National Apple Show to erect a mommoth monument to Adam and Eve in one of the apple belts in the northwest. The board of trustees of the organization, of which Howard Elliott, head of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, is president, is discussing plans for a substantial prize for the most appropriate design, submitted in competition, to be awarded by popular vote at the third annual show in Spokane the week of November 14th. Rev. H. Rice, secretary of the apple show, announces that if Mr. Crowell's plan is adopted by the trustees, arrangements will be made to erect the monument early next summer and have it in readiness for the dedicatory services the third week in November, 1911. President Taft and representative men and women from all parts of the country will be invited to attend and participate in the ceremonies at the unveiling of the monument.

DOESN'T AGREE WITH BOUILLON

E. C. Boyle Examining Filtration Plant—Will Confer With Mr. Bouillon Shortly

In an interview this morning, Mr. E. C. Boyle, of the Roberts Manufacturing Co., Montreal, who is here for the purpose of examing the Edmonton filters, stated that he disagreed with Mr. Bouillon's opinion that the cause of the difficulty in the filtration plant was that the strainers in some cases had become clogged with concrete during the course of installation, which work was performed by the Roberts Company Mr. Boyle stated that if such had been the case it would have been impossible to get the capacity that was realized after the installation of the plant last fall. He claimed that the plant was running very satisfactorily after he left it.

Commissioner Bouillon when informed of Mr. Boyle's contention refused to make any statement, saying that he would confer with Mr. Boyle first.

It is obvious, however, that it is in the interests of the Roberts Company that they should find the plant in good condition so that the responsibility would not fall on them. It is also curious that the last time Mr. Bouillon advanced an explanation as to the proper operation of the plant he was correct. The result of the conference will be awaited with interest.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Editor, "The Edmonton Capital,"
Edmonton, Alta.:

Sir,—In your issue of June 30, under the caption of "Loses Appeal," there appears a statement respecting the appeal of S. R. English vs. Andrew Thompson, tried here before His Honor Judge Taylor on the 29th inst., which is incorrect.

This appeal was brought by Mr. English, and was allowed, not quashed, as stated in your issue, and the conviction made against Mr English was quashed.

The facts in brief are that Mr. S. R. English of Lanuke, Alberta, for 15 years an importer and breeder of pure bred Shorthorn cattle, had a charge preferred against him by Andrew Thompson, of Vegreville, Alberta, in which it was alleged that Mr. English had signed and presented for registration to the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders Association, false pedigrees of certain animals of his herd. This charge was laid before and tried by George F. Downes, Esquire, Police Magistrate of Strathcona, on the 25th of April last. The magistrate found Mr. English guilty and fined him $100 and costs. From this decision Mr English appealed, and it was this appeal which was heard here on the 29th instant, and as I have stated, the appeal was allowed, and the conviction made by the magistrate quashed.

As Mr. English is particularly well and favorably known as a breeder and exhibitor of pure breds by all stock men throughout the province and in this district since he has made his home here, and as your statements do him a grave injustice, and might cause injury to his high standing and reputation among those acquainted with the facts, I ask that you make correction of the errors to which I have called attention, either by publication of this letter, or other equally ample manner.

Vegreville, Alberta, June 30, 1910.

Yours, etc.,
F. A. MORRISON.

IRON DEPOSITS ALONG G.T.P. LINE

James McEvoy, Prominent Geologist, Thinks Large Deposits Await Discovery in Country West of Here

Mr. James McEvoy, a prominent Canadian geologist, and once connected with the Canadian Geological Survey, who is in Edmonton, states that he believes that iron ore will be found along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific in the mountains west of Edmonton. Mr. McEvoy has just returned from a trip to the Yellowhead Pass, where he has been prospecting for private mining interests.

Mr. McEvoy while sure of finding iron ore is not sanguine that coal will be found adjacent, but says that it is within range of possibility. He said further that there was going to be great development in the coal fields at the Yellowhead Pass within the next two years as several companies were preparing to work. Mr. McEvoy said that he considered the development of that country a great boon for Edmonton.

H. B. CO. EXPLOITED BY STOCK EXCHANGE

So Said Mr. Henry Clarke at Annual Meeting of the Company in London Yesterday

London July 5.—At the annual meeting yesterday of the Hudson Bay Co., Lord Strathcona said the reports indicated a continued increase in fur bearing animals in Canada, though shortage of rabbits for food was against the hunters. He referred to the prospective increase in the price of agricultural land.

Mr. Henry Clarke protested against changes in the board and said it looked as if the company was to be exploited by the stock exchange. The annual report was adopted. The meeting decided to present Lord Strathcona with a portrait in oil.

CROP CONDITION IS SATISFACTORY

J. Bruce Walker, Western Immigration Superintendent, States Crops Generally Are Good

Ottawa, July 5.—A telegraphic report sent to the Immigration Department today from Mr. J. Bruce Walker, western immigration superintendent, states that advices received from immigration officers throughout western Canada indicates that the crop conditions in the prairie provinces are fairly satisfactory, although the continued dry weather and intense heat in some ocalities is doing considerable damage.

Mr. Walker says: The crop conditions in the west generally are fairly satisfactory. In many places in Manitoba, except in southern Manitoba west of Killarney, where the continued heat of the past ten days causes some anxiety, the crop prospects are splendid. The conditions in Saskatchewan are very promising, save in the neighborhood immediately south of Prince Albert for about twenty miles or so, and between Quill Lake and Langham, on the Canadian Northern, where there has been lack of rain and consequent short and backward crops In Alberta north of Red Deer River the crop outlook is most encouraging, but I regret to say that south of a line drawn from Medicine alft to Calgary the continued absence of rain has had a serious effect. The outlook is least promising in southern Alberta, where the fall crop suffering seriously from drouth.

NOTHING TO TALK ABOUT

fries had been battered down were spontaneous and show his state of mind when the heat of battle was still on him. As his friends and newspaper men crowded around him while he lay back in the hands of his seconds, he said: "Jeffries never could hit me, he couldn't penetrate my defence. I have always known this and he has just found it out. When he crouched I made him straighten up, and then I picked him to pieces I used everything there is in pugilism on Jeffries and he could not stand the strain."

Had Little to Say

Jeffries' people had little to say; they were sorely disappointed. Jim Corbett said last night: "It was simply the old story of the pitcher and the well, once too often; it happened to a whole lot of us, and it must happen to Jeffries. He would have done better in a Marathon than he did in this fight. It was only his courage and condition that kept him there so long."

NEW SERVICE IS IN GREAT DEMAND

People in Towns Along G. T. P. Are Greatly Pleased With It

NEWS FROM TOFIELD

July the Fourth Celebrated at Viking—Form Baseball League of Towns Along Line

(Special to The Capital.)

Tofield, July 5.—A large number of citizens were at the station yesterday to greet the arrival of the Grand Trunk Pacific eastbound passenger train, the second to pass through the town. Among those who disembarked from the train was Mayor Lee of Edmonton, who in addition to paying a business trip to Tofield is incidentally trying out the new passenger service, with which he expressed himself highly pleased. Other passengers on board the train who stopped at Tofield were H. Reis, and J. Keeler of Ottawa. They are Geological Survey men who have come from Edmonton for the purpose of collecting samples of clay deposits which exist in the district with a view to ascertaining the value of the clays as brick and tile manufacturing material.

Great Local Convenience

Yesterday morning about 40 citizens of Tofield and residents of the surrounding district took advantage of the new passenger service to go to Viking to attend the Fourth of July celebration there. A programme of sports and races was arranged for which included a football match between Tofield and Holden teams. Before it was known that the passenger service would be put on it had been the intention of the Tofield citizens to drive to Viking, a distance of 42 miles, to attend the sports. The party would necessarily have left town Sunday and driven practically all day reaching their destination in the evening in order to be in shape for the sports. With the new passenger service they reached Viking at 12.30 and after spending practically all afternoon were able to return to Tofield early in the evening.

Will Form Ball League

As a result of the G. T. P. towns being brought so much closer together from the point of time, by the new service, arrangements are being made to form a baseball league among the towns along the Grand Trunk Pacific. R. M. Whitlans went to Wainwright today for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the organization of the league.

OVERDUE CARS ARRIVE AT LAST

But Only Two Out of the Six Are Here Yet—Rest Are Coming Soon

Out of the six new cars which have been ordered by the city from the Ottawa Car Company, two arirved last week. This order in long overdue and Commissioner Bouillon has been impatient over their non-arrival. When he took over the supervision of the public utilities two months ago he was told that the cars were then ready for shipment. However, the balance of the order is expected along very soon. The new cars are of the pay-as-you-enter type and are the same, in every particular, as the others of that nature. Commissioner Bouillon said that there will be no change in the time schedule because when all the new cars are on hand some of the old ones will be relegated to the repair shop.
